Situation

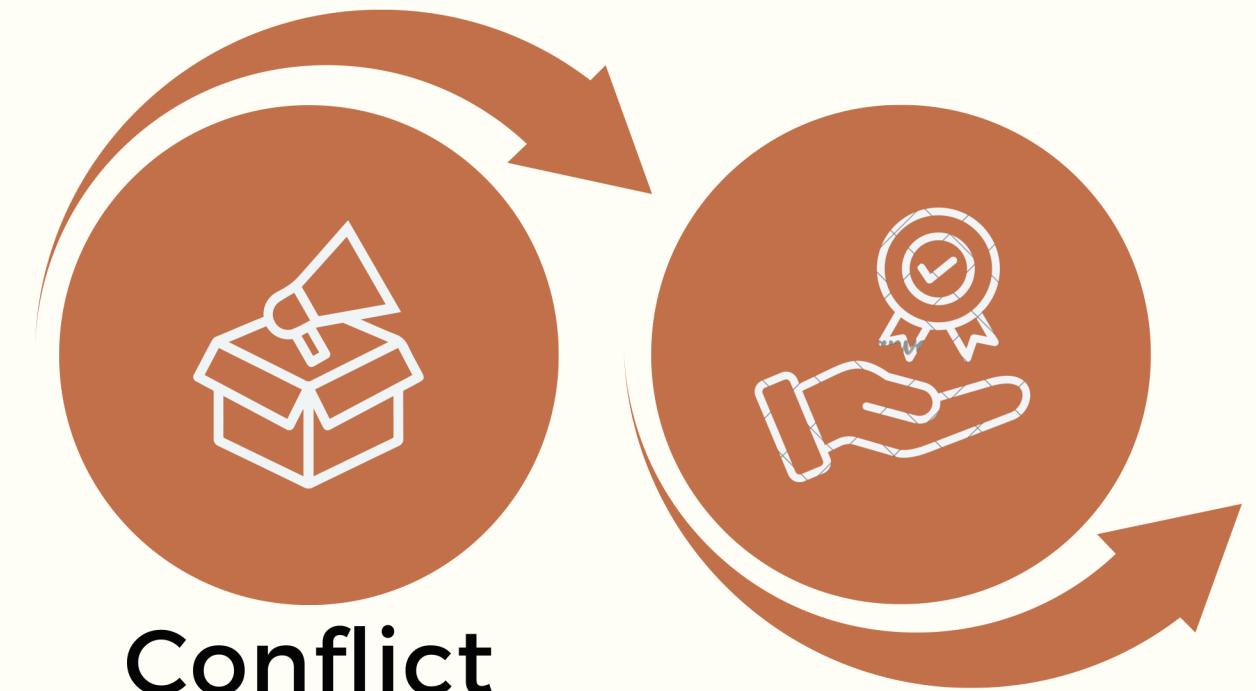

Alia was an athletic girl in our school. She was a school representative in badminton, rugby and basketball. She always didn't attend to school because of the competition that she involved in. When she didn't have time to do her homework, she will let her friend named Ain to do her homework. Since she was aware that her friend needed money right now, she gave her friend money when she agreed to complete her schoolwork.

Background

Benefits

Alia can submit her homework at the right time and she can avoid being scolded by her teachers.

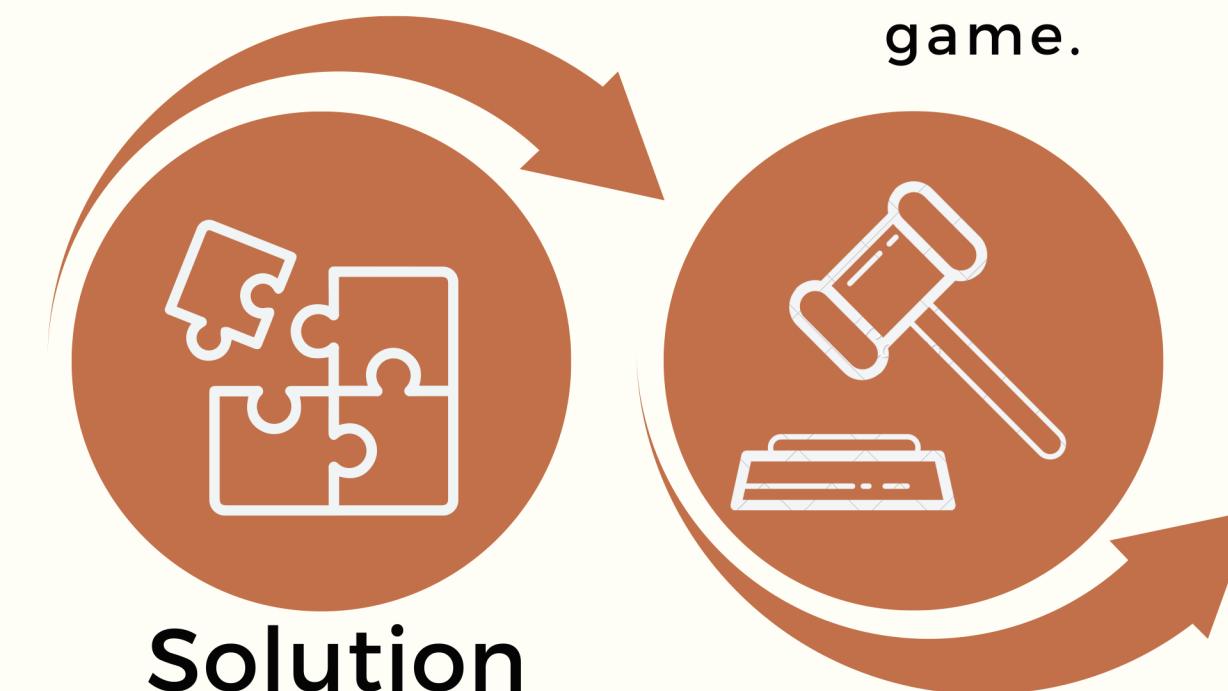

Conflict

In this case, Alia is facing two problems which she needs to work hard and win her sports game and she also needs to do her homework and submit it before the deadline.

Guilty

Alia knows that she needs to do her homework by herself but she does not have time to do her homework because she has to focus on her sports game.

Solution

Alia was aware of her friend, Ain's financial problem and paid Ain instead to do her homework.

Decision

She wants to help her friends and also needs to finish her homework. Because of that, she hired her friend although she knows that it was wrong.

Lost of value

TIME MANAGEMENT

01

Alia's time management is lost because she chooses to focus on her sports rather than fulfilling her duties as a student. Since Alia's frequent absences from school for practices and games, there may be a loss of important lessons. Instead of making time to do her homework, she decides to let her friend do her homework.

02

RESPONSIBILITY

In this situation, Alia neglects her responsibility and takes advantage of her friend, Ain's financial situation. In order to finish her homework before deadlines, Alia decides to ignore her responsibility as a student by letting other people do her homework.

FAIRNESS

03

It is unfair to other students who are completing the work with honesty. They took their time and effort to complete their homework themselves. While Alia leisurely didn't think about her homework because she had assigned her friend Ain to do her homework.

Universal Values

HONESTY

Alia needs to be honest by doing her homework herself. By being honest in doing her homework, it can improve her understanding of her studies. Consistency of honesty also can lead Alia to better academic success.

COMPASSION

Compassion is one of the moral characters in which a person has a strong feeling of sympathy for another person. In this situation, Alia sympathizes with Ain who has a financial problem. Instead of paying Ain to do her homework, she should find other methods to help Ain's financial situation.

INTEGRITY

Alia's decision to let someone else complete her homework while offering money goes against principles. Alia needs to prioritize her academic honesty and take responsibility for her own lessons. From this action, she is able to stay away from her unethical decision.

Brainstorming

SEEK ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Rather than relying on her friend to finish her schoolwork, Alia can ask her teachers or tutors for help to fully understand what she's learning and finish her tasks. With this option, Alia also can improve her knowledge of the subject that she is learning.

IMPROVE TIME MANAGEMENT

To better successfully manage her responsibilities when it comes to both her academic and athletic activities, Alia should focus on improving her time management techniques.

GUIDANCE

It would be helpful for Alia to consult with a mentor or counselor who can offer help in achieving a balanced and healthful lifestyle. This option also allows her to set specific goals for her athletic and academic achievements.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Alia could look at other options to assist her friend Ain with her money problems. This may involve figuring out how to help her with her financial problems legally. For example, Alia could suggest that Ain owns a little business.

CONCLUSION

1. Reflection on conflicts

Alia didn't get to manage her time wisely. Since she was the school's representative, she needed to focus on her sport and as a student, she also needed to focus on her studies. While she focuses on her sports game, she doesn't have time to do all her homework. She was aware of her friend, Ain's financial issues and takes advantage of her. Alia paid her friend to do her homework instead of making time to do her own homework.

2. Values

The decision made here significantly affected Alia's morals and sense of self. She lost confidence in herself and felt guilty. She was also disappointed in herself for what she had done. She lost her sense of fairness and responsibility toward others as a result of choosing to allow her friend Ain to complete her assignment.

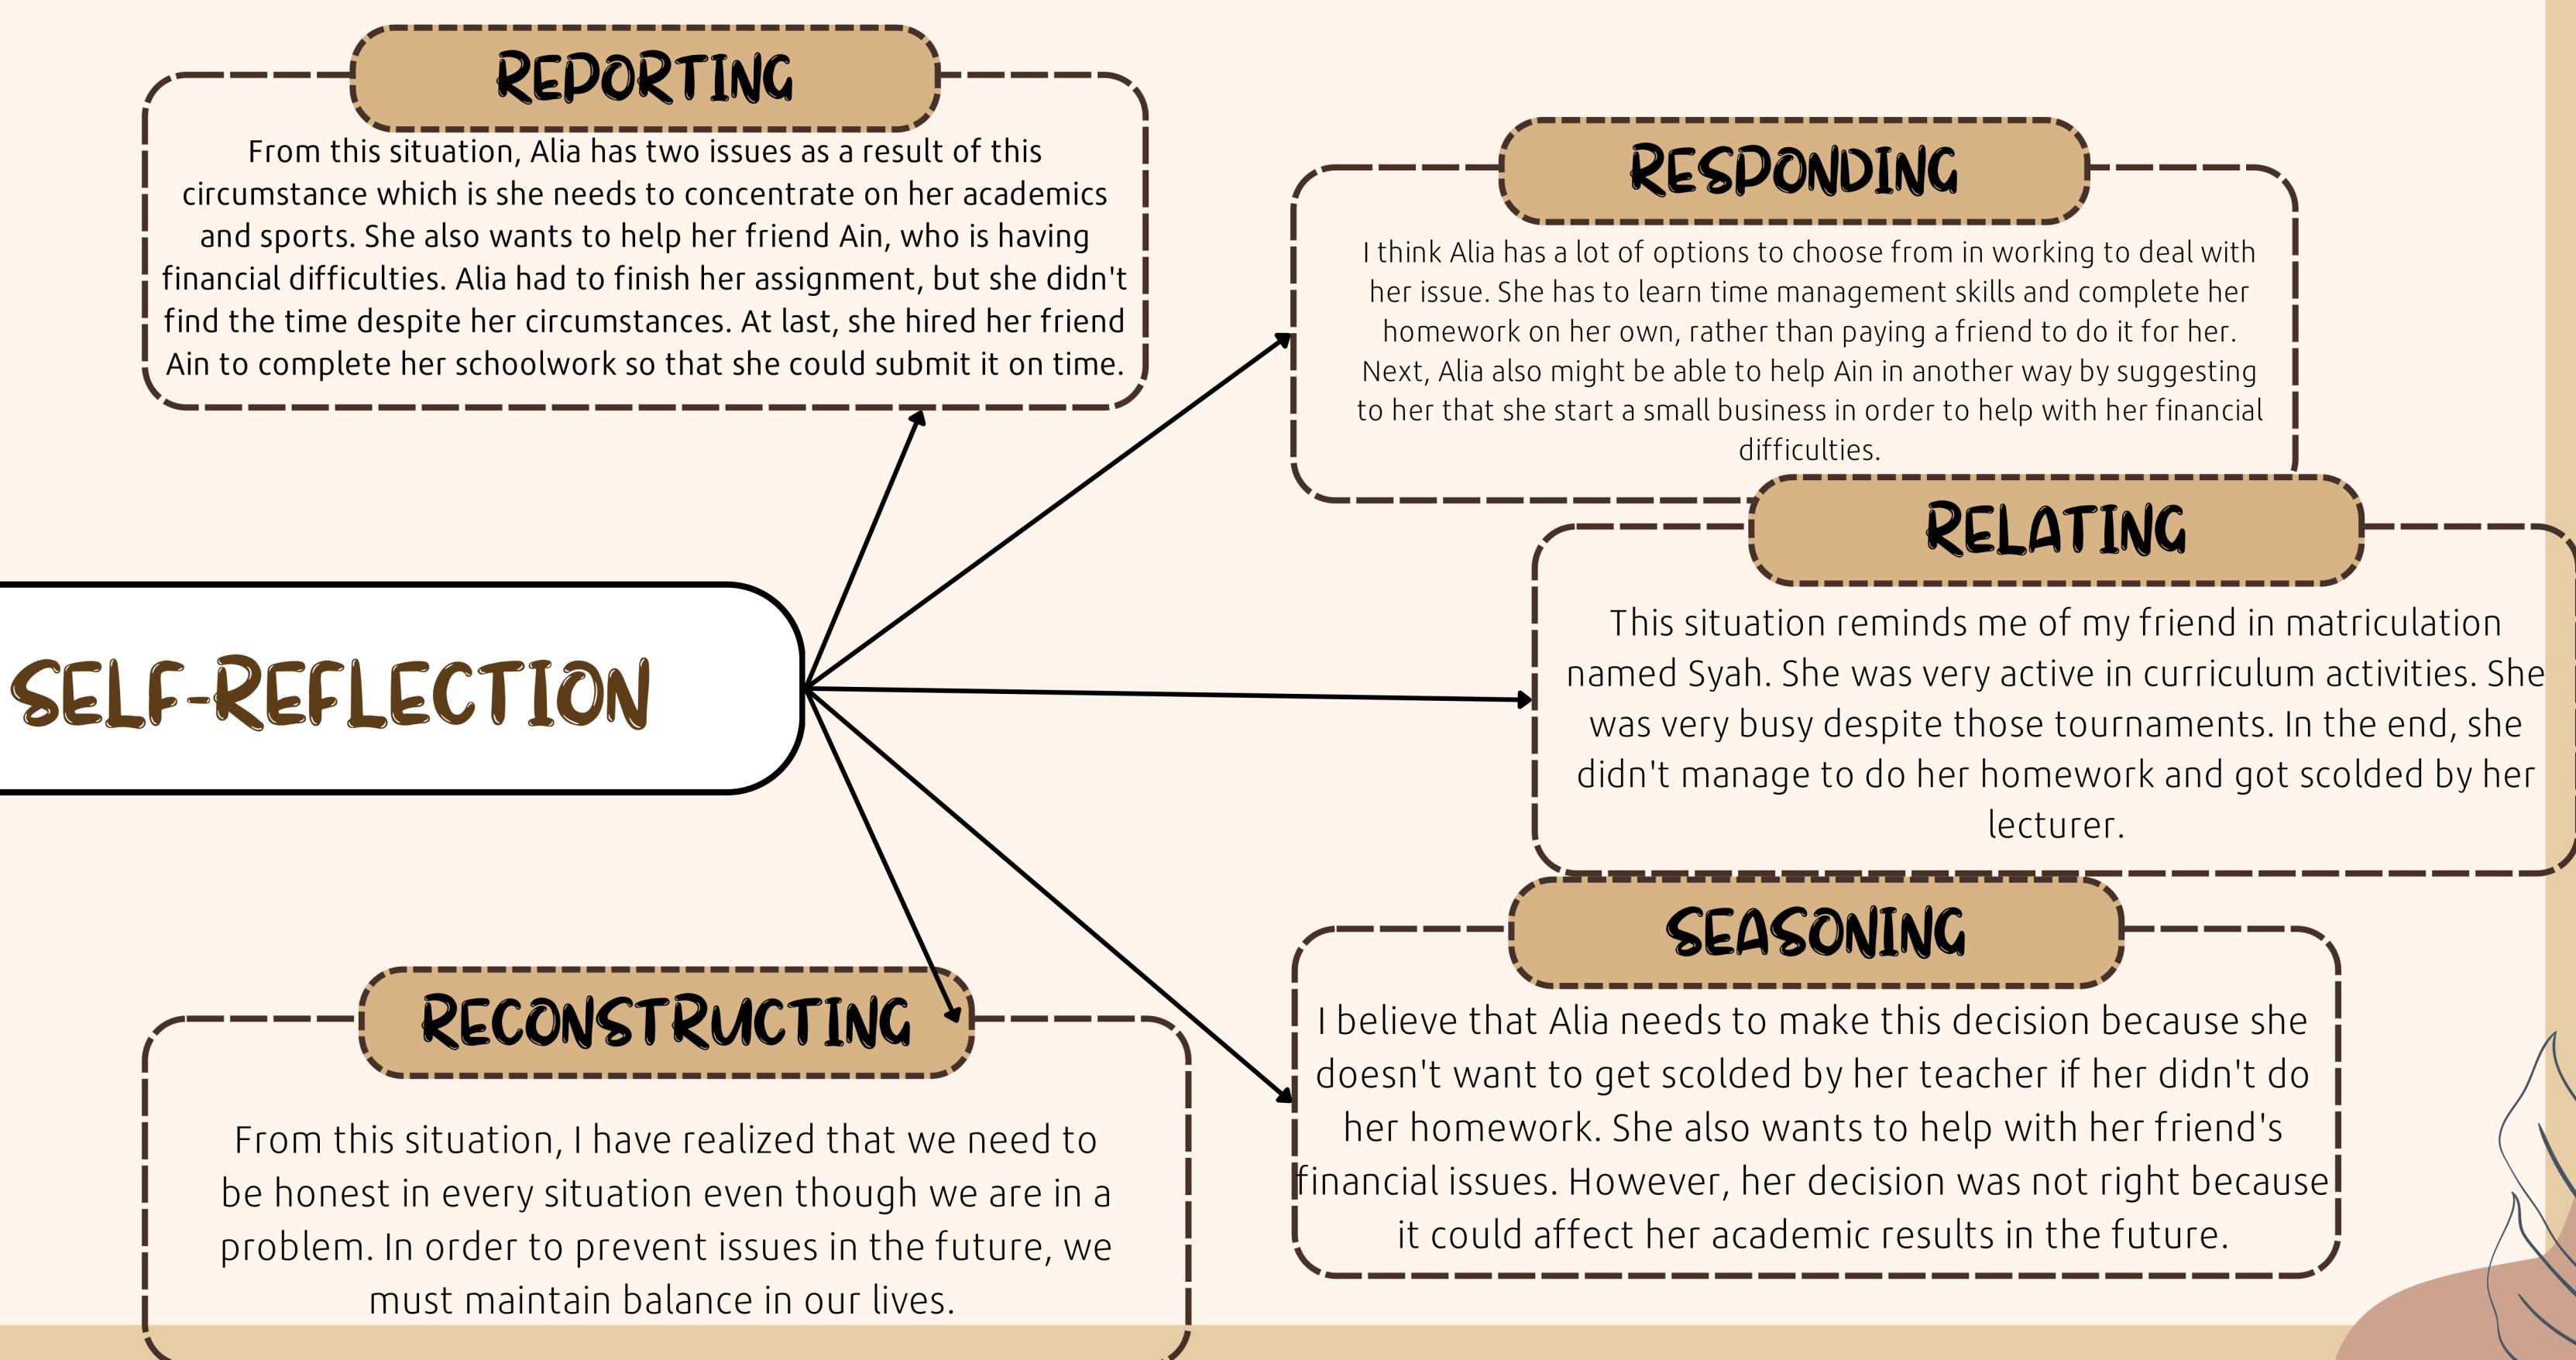

3. Possible solution

To prevent this issue, Alia could have chosen to manage her time wisely. Perhaps Alia should cut back on her athletics and concentrate more on her education. She also could have another alternative which is seeking guidance from her counselor who can advise her on getting a balanced life.

4. Overall

In conclusion, a person's sense of value and self-worth may seriously decrease if they sacrifice their morals and values to make their life easier. It's important that we be honest with ourselves and maintain our moral principles in order to get long-term advantages and to be disciplined person.
